President and Governor Ask Aid for Famine Sufferers of War Ridden China

Carson City, Jan. 27, 1912.

I have this day received the following communication from Hon. William H. Taft, president of the United States, as president of the American National Red Cross, appealing to the generosity of the people of Nevada in aid of the famine-stricken of China:

"Washington, Jan. 26.

"Hon. Tasker L. Oddie,
Governor of Nevada,
Carson City, Nevada.

"Reports of the famine in China are so appalling that I have felt it imperative, as the president of the Red Cross, to make known the facts as given to the press today in order that the people of the United States may extend relief with characteristic generosity. If you, as president of your State Red Cross board, see fit to supplement this publication by proclamation to the people of your state, the force of the appeal will be greatly strengthened. Contributions received by members of your state board should be duly credited by your board treasurer and transmitted to the national treasurer in Washington.

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Now, therefore, I, Tasker L. Oddie, governor of the state of Nevada and president of the Red Cross of Nevada, recommend the foregoing communication to the people of the state of Nevada for their generous response and action in aid of the unfortunate of the famine stricken districts of China.

Contributions may be sent to me personally or to any of the following associate members of the Red Cross board of the state: Hon. Lem Allen, Fallon; Hon. John Henderson, Elko; Judge Peter J. Somers, Goldfield, and Dr. J. E. Stubbs, Reno, for transmission to the national treasurer of the association in Washington.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the state of Nevada, at the capitol in Carson City, this twenty-seventh day of January, A. D. 1912.

(Seal) TASKER L. ODDIE,
Governor.

By the Governor:
GEORGE BRODIGAN,
Secretary of State.

POVERTY STRICKEN, BUT REFUSES $2800 REQUEST

For more than a year Edward Weeks, 51 years old, a poverty stricken dishwasher in a mountain hotel near Caliente, has refused to go to San Francisco and claim $2800.

Public Administrator M. J. Hynes has been waiting to pay him from the estate of his mother, the late Mrs. Annie P. Weeks. Weeks has lived at Caliente for fifteen years and is a typical mountain character, poorer than the proverbial church mouse. His only income is a few dollars he picks up about the hotel. He refuses to wear new clothes, even shirts, and when "store duds" are presented to him, they disappear the following day.

MEETS SISTER WHO HAD MOURNED HIM AS DEAD

The following dispatch from La Crosse, Wis., dated last Saturday, is of local interest. Mr. Fayant being so well-known throughout this section of Nevada:

"After he had been thought dead for twenty years, Joseph Fayant today walked into the home of his sister here. Fayant is now a wealthy mine owner of Golconda, Nev., and has been trying for years to find traces of his sister, but was unable to do so because she had removed from her former home."

JACK TAYLOR IS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

The Burns, Ore., News of last Wednesday says: "At the preliminary hearing of John M. Taylor last Wednesday before Justice Platt T. Randall on the charge of murder on account of killing Albert J. Perry and Robert Settemyre in the Wild Horse country a few weeks ago, the justice held Taylor to answer before the grand jury next April, without bonds. The testimony was practically a recital of the facts detailed in these columns at the time. Taylor went on the stand in his own behalf, and it is claimed by many that he made a poor witness."

DEFINES MISUSE OF FLAG.

Major General Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, comes out strongly against the abuse or misuse of the American flag. He contends that the flag should never be used as a covering or as a drapery, and is opposed to its being used for advertising purposes. The common practice on shipboard to spread the flag over the chaplains table or desk during services is condemned at some quarters as misuse of the flag.

PASSING OF THE BUFFALO FROM STARKS FARM

The last of the bison that once roved the ranch of the late Governor Sparks went to the shambles yesterday. In years past the wild animals on the Sparks' place attracted many visitors. There the buffalo and elk mingled with each other and with the cattle, all in one happy family.

These erstwhile wild animals were the pride and delight of Nevada's former chief executive. Since his death they have one by one either died naturally or have gone to the meat market.

This magnificent bison, which was the pride of the herd, was the last of his species in the state.

PASSED AWAY AT HIS HOME IN LOVELOCK

William P. Ladd passed away at Lovelock on Saturday, January 20, 1912.

Deceased was born in Lovelock and had resided there the greater part of his life. He was twenty-three years old at the time of his death. Besides the mother, there are two sisters, Miss Nellie Ladd and Mrs. Lydia Thompson, of his immediate family; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Davis, and many cousins in the families of the descendants of that aged couple.

His father, the late Geo. Ladd, was one of the discoverers of the Bullfrog mining district in Southern Nevada.

The funeral services were held in the Catholic church at Lovelock Tuesday afternoon, Father Enright officiating.

CHINAMAN ALL SAME MELICAN MAN NOW

J. C. Walter, proprietor of the Pioneer barber shop at Searchlight, has hanging over a mirror in his tonsorial parlor a souvenir which, though insignificant in itself, brings to mind the great forward strides now being made by one of the world's greatest and oldest nations. The article in question is the queue which, up to a few days ago, graced the head of the local Chinese laundry man.

"Heap good," said the knight of the washbasin and the flatiron. Feel fine. Heap clean. Wash head every day. Dry quick. Queue no dry. Heap dirty." And the son of China rubbed the top of his pate upon which there is growing a fine crop of hair in good American style.

"Bi-me-by no more China boy come to this country," he continued. "Bi-me-by I go back to China. Before, go back no queue, no good. Now all right. China all same this country. China have Melican laws. Good laws, take 'em. Bad laws, no take 'em."

"A HENHOUSE HERO" AT THE BUTLER TONIGHT

GOOD PROGRAM PROMISED THE PATRONS FOR TONIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENT.

One of the largest crowds of the season attended the Butler theater last night, the drawing card being the Priny Sisters in their "Texas Tommy" dance, which brought down the house. These clever children will be heard in an entire change every night.

There will be shown a good variety of moving pictures at the Butler theater tonight, among them will be the much-talked-of feature: "A Henhouse Hero." This is one of Essanay's very best comedy productions. Next will be shown Pathe's Weekly, No. 49, portraying world happenings of the most interesting subjects.

"The Doll," a well-acted photoplay by the Pathe Moving Picture company.

There will also be shown an unusually good Western picture entirely aside from the usual Western story and full of interest, such only as is seen in all Essanay productions. This picture is entitled, "Story of the West" and is a full life production of real true merit.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to express my sincere thanks to the good people of Tonopah who so generously patronized the benefit given in my behalf at the Nevada theater last Friday evening, and the kindly spirit shown by Mr. Jake Goodfriend in donating the theater on that evening.

"MAX" WILEY.
